Resort to be developed on Head Lake

Dysart et al agrees to concept, will sell 30 acre section of Glebe Park

Dysart et al council will sell 30 acres of its Glebe Park property on Head Lake to a Toronto based company which wants to build a $10 million time sharing resort.

Council confirmed on Monday that it is considering a proposal from Sherwood Developments Ltd., which wants to erect 30 log dwellings and support facilities on the site. The buildings would be placed on lots a minimum of 100 feet wide, including eight which would front on the lake. Other lots would face paved roads built to municipal standards by the developer. All buildings would be serviced by sanitary sewers connected to the Dysart pollution plant. The developer would leave a buffer zone along the lakeshore to preserve the natural vegetation, and the public would continue to have access to snowmobile and cross country skiing trails which pass through the property.

While council is still negotiating with the development company, Reeve Murray Fearrey said that the company would begin marketing the project as early as this spring if all the required conditions can be met.

The property to be developed is adjacent to the Haliburton Highlands Museum, and is part of the 130 acre Glebe Park parcel.

Council has obtained two independant appraisals of the property, and expects to sell it for about $200,000 to Sherwood Developments. The money would be placed in trust, with the interest earmarked for development of Glebe Park. The principal would remain untouched, Fearrey said.

Under the time sharing scheme proposed by the developers, people would purchase one or two week blocks of time, giving them full use of one of the log dwellings, and support facilities, including tennis courts, a swimming pool, sauna, boat launching ramp and docks. Up to 100 people could be vacationing on the site for most or all of the year.

"It will certainly have an impact on the community if the project goes forward" Fearrey said, citing the economic benefits which could accrue to local businesses from the additional population.

While council is pleased with the potential benefits of the resort, it has moved cautiously from the outset, according to Fearrey. He said the municipality is "concerned, because it is not familiar with time sharing as such".

Councillors have travelled to other areas to take a close look at time sharing resorts and talk to officials in those areas. The municipality will ensure that "every safeguard is built in" to its agreement with the development company, Fearrey said.

Because the development will be hooked into sanitary sewers and a buffer zone will be maintained along the lakeshore, no environmental impact study is anticipated, according to the reeve. An official plan amendment will be necessary, however, to rezone the 30 acre parcel.

Council is "viewing it as 30 additional residences in the community" the reeve said.

It is expected that the developers would use local contractors to carry out work on the project wherever possible.

"If everything falls into place, they would hope to be marketing the units in the spring or summer of this year" Fearrey said.

Council will meeting with representatives of the company later this month to discuss the price of the land and other details of the proposed project.

This is an artist's sketch of the proposed time sharing development which Sherwood Developments hopes to construct on a 30 acre property fronting on Head Lake in Haliburton. Council is negotiating with the company at the moment, and if details can be worked out, construction could begin as early as this spring. The total cost of the project is estimated at $10 million.

Dysart says no to radar unit funds

Councillors say province should equip local police, refuse cost share

Despite a request from former county warden Bill Howe, Dysart et al council will not contribute to the purchase of a mobile radar unit for the Minden detachment of the OPP.

At a meeting Monday, council voted against bearing a portion of the estimated $2,500 cost of the unit. Reeve Murray Fearrey voted in favour of assisting the purchase, while councillor Dorothy Baker abstained.

The request from Howe was contained in a letter sent to the reeves of every municipality in Haliburton County.

Howe said he had been "made aware of what I consider a serious situation in the county. The OPP are hampered in controlling speeding due to the lack of a mobile radar unit being at Minden detachment's disposal on a full time basis."

Howe said that because of restraint programs and cut backs in funding levels, the province has said it will not fund the purchase of a mobile radar unit for the exclusive use of the Minden detachment. (At the moment Minden shares a unit with the Coboconk detachment).

"We are all aware of the carnage taking place because of excessive speed and the use of alcohol and drugs, which certainly warrants this necessary protection" the former warden said.

He suggested that the cost of the unit could be shared equally among the 10 municipalities in the county, or apportioned according to the formula used for municipal contributions to the county budget. In the first case Dysart's share would be $250, and in the second, approximately $700.

While reeve Murray Fearrey was in favour of backing Howe's request, other members of council were not.

Councillor Sid Cooper said he felt the purchase would be "a waste of money". Cooper said that police would "only catch one guy every 15 minutes, and it's probably the wrong guy anyway." He said the unit would be "just a way to keep (the police) busy."

Councillor Glen Hodgson noted that the radar unit should be basic equipment for the detachment, and as such, should be provided by the province rather than by a direct contribution from local taxpayers.

Deputy reeve Gary McKnight expressed a similar view.

"If the government thinks that a radar unit is in[illegible]all." [illegible] then (the OPP) should hav[illegible] ag[illegible]'t see why we should d that fun[illegible] it [illegible]

Reeve Murray Fearrey sa[illegible] while he agreed in principle wi[illegible] that position, it was clear that the province was not going to make funds available to buy the unit.

"If it's any deterrent at all, I think we should have it" he said, in support of assisting the purchase. "It could save a life."

But Hodgson, McKnight and councillor Lloyd Leadbeater voted against contributing municipal [illegible]s for the unit. Fearrey voted for [illegible], and Baker abstained, although other councillors pointed out that to abstain was to vote against the purchase.

Guild seeks more money from council

The Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts has begun a pitch for more money from Dysart et al council. Council contributed about $7,000 to the Guild and its main project, the Rails' End Gallery, in 1983, but board members have made it clear that more will be needed if the Guild is to continue the scope of its present operations.

Board member Ken Wilson told council on Monday that the Guild's financial position "is not strong". It is expected that the organization will have a deficit of about $10,000 when its fiscal year ends in May. In 1983, the Guild had a deficit of $9,041 on total expenditures of $114,023.

Main reason for the shortfall, council was told, is a decline in donations and memberships, occasioned at least partly by the turmoil surrounding the dismissal of former curator Lucinda St. Pierre. As well, the organization has found it difficult to budget for the cost of shows at the gallery, since they must be booked as much as a year and a half before they come to Haliburton, and charges can escalate in the interim.

Crime up, meeting is told

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

The crime rate is increasing in Haliburton County, mainly due to economic conditions, and break and entries, especially around cottages, are up 47% over the same period in 1982.

These facts were presented to a concerned crowd of nearly 35 citizens who were on hand at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Monday night to attend the first meeting of the Haliburton Village Neighbourhood Watch Program. The meeting, which was held to explain the Neighbourhood Watch self-help property protection program, was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Haliburton in co-operation with the Ontario Provincial Police.

Purpose of the Neighbourhood Watch program, according to pamphlet handed out at the meeting, is to encourage neighbours to watch other neighbour's property during times when burglaries are likely to occur. A police officer patrolling a community may not recognize a stranger in your yard - but your neighbours would.

Minden Detachment Community Services officer Gary Chapman presented a film showing how burglars operate and how crime can be brought under control if people call the O.P.P. when suspicious persons or activities are observed in a neighbourhood.

Chapman said the O.P.P. will help in this program whenever they are called on but said it must be set up and run by interested citizens in the community.

Sergeant Bill Bailey outlined ways that the average citizen can protect himself, one of which is to join Operation Identification. He said thieves usually stay away from homes and buildings when they know that the serial numbers and other information make the stolen item hard to dispose of. Bailey also stressed that vehicles should always be locked. Statistics show that 80% of stolen cars have been left

Building permits rise

An upsurge in the Canadian economy is seen as the reason for a substantial jump in construction that boosted Dysart et al's tax base by almost $5 million last year.

A total of 283 building permits were issued in the municipality in 1983, for structures with an estimated value of $4,797,700.

The permits were for 23 dwellings, valued at $1,103,500, 56 seasonal residences with an estimated value of $1,995,500, and 204 repairs, alterations, additions, garages and other structures, with an estimated value of $1,698,700.

While not all of the structures covered by the permits have been completed, their total estimated value will be added to the assessment base of the municipality once they are finished.

The 283 permits brought the municipality $5,731 in fees in 1983.

Police news

General Occurrences

During the period January 2-8, 1984, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: six motor vehicle accidents in which one person was injured, and 31 general occurrences, including three thefts, two break and enters and two damages.

Death

On Friday, January 6, at 11:35 a.m., Stanley Roberts, age 65, of Dysart Township, suffered an apparent heart attack while driving his pickup truck on Highway 118 near the Lakeview School, just outside Haliburton village. The truck sustained $500 damage when it drove into five guide posts at the edge of the road. Roberts was pronounced dead at Haliburton Hospital. PC Brian Dunham investigated the fatality.

Big and Little

On Sunday, January 8, at 2:30 p.m., on County Road 1 in Snowdon Township, Douglas Stevens, age 23, of Beeton, Ont., drove his 1984 Mazda pickup truck into the rear of a 1979 International front-end loader being driven by Francis Walker, age 37, of Snowdon Township. Stevens apparently broke over the crest of a hill and, upon seeing the slower moving loader, applied his brakes but slid into the rear of the machine. There was $800 damage to the truck but none to the loader.

Neighbourhood Watch - Haliburton Village

The initial general meeting took place Monday night at the Haliburton High School. The meeting was sponsored by the Haliburton Rotary Club and consisted of a crime prevention movie and a talk by Ontario Provincial Police personnel.

PROPERTY ASSESSMENT
and your 1984 Municipal and School Taxes

Regional Offices located throughout Ontario are responsible for assessing all real property for the purposes of municipal and school taxation.

The resulting Assessment Rolls are delivered to municipalities which use them to set their mill rates and compute municipal property tax bills.

The amount of property tax you pay on your home or business depends on the assessed value and the mill rate set by your municipality. The assessed value multiplied by the mill rate will determine your 1984 property taxes.

Open House Sessions

Open Houses are your opportunity to fully understand your assessment and to evaluate its equity.

Open Houses are held in every municipality at convenient times and locations, to provide you with the opportunity to discuss your assessment with staff of the Regional Assessment Office.

An assessor will be pleased to explain the basis of your property assessment and is authorized to amend any information as may be necessary prior to the delivery of the Assessment Roll to your municipality.

If you have any questions but are unable to attend the Open House, please contact your Regional Assessment Office at the address or telephone number shown below.

Assessment Notice

Property owners and tenants will receive an Assessment Notice only if information regarding their property or assessment was changed during the past year, if the assessment was appealed last year, or if the property has been reassessed under section 63 of the Assessment Act. If you receive an Assessment Notice, it may reflect changes you have requested in your school support designation, the amount of your assessed value, or other recorded information on last year's Notice.

Appeal Procedure

If, after attending your local Open House, you are still dissatisfied with your assessment, you have a right to appeal it to the Assessment Review Board. The Assessment Review Board conducts informal hearings and is responsible for determining whether the assessment under appeal is fair and equitable with the assessments of similar properties in the vicinity or neighbourhood, and may alter your assessment accordingly.

Appeal Deadline

The final date for appealing your assessment is March 7, 1984.

Your appeal must be forwarded, either on a Notice of Appeal Form or as a letter, to the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board on or before March 7, 1984, noting your property address, Roll Number and the reason for the appeal.

To assist you in this regard, Notice of Appeal forms and the address of the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board are available at Open Houses, your Regional Assessment Office, or your municipal office.

Computers costly

Dysart balks at $50,000 price tag

It appears Dysart et al council won't opt to computerize its tax collecting and general ledger accounting procedures in the immediate future, because the cost would be too high.

At a meeting Monday, council discovered that it would cost close to $50,000 to computerize its tax collecting and accounting work in the first year, and then at least $36,000 a year in the future for computer services. The figures came from a presentation by Real Time Datapro Ltd., a Don Mills based company which offers computer hardware and software to municipalities and private industry.

Company representatives Geoffrey Burrowes and Ed Philpott spent close to an hour demonstrating Real Time Datapro's services to council, and while members were impressed, they balked at the bottom line of almost $50,000 for two terminals, two modems, a high speed printer, keyboards, and use of the company's main frame computer for one year.

While councillors agreed that the system would greatly improve the efficiency of accounting operations in the municipal office, they noted that two more employees could be hired to handle the work and still save the taxpayers money over the cost of Real Time Datapro's equipment and services.

While council apparently will not purchase the Don Mills company's services, Dysart officials have not closed the door on computers in the municipal office, and will continue to look into possibilities and costs.

Cottagers must buy pump

Dysart et al council has turned down a request from Percy Lake cottage owners for financial help to purchase a fire pump. The cottages want the pump in order to respond quickly to fires in the area.

But council balked at contributing funds.

"We have never got into funding lake associations for fire fighting equipment" Reeve Murray Fearrey commented. He said that while the idea of a portable pump on the lake is a good one, council could not assist the purchase because other asociations in the municipality have paid the whole cost of portable fire fighting equipment.

Councillor Lloyd Leadbeater noted that there are seven portable fire pumps in Harcourt Park, and said all of them were bought by area property owners.

Council will send the Percy Lake ratepayers a letter expressing regret that no municipal funds can be made available for the pump.

This photograph, which looks like a painting, is one of a number of works by Freeman Patterson which are on display at the Rails End Gallery in Haliburton all this month.

Dysart forms committee

Dysart et al council has appointed a local committee to combat the problem of drinking and driving.

The decision came after council considered a letter from Ontario's Attorney General Roy McMurtry which urged local communities to try to bring the message to local citizens that drinking and driving are a dangerous and potentially lethal combination.

Following a brief discussion of the letter, council decided to appoint a local committee consisting of HHSS principal Dale Robinson, the president of the HHSS student council, one member of the Haliburton Ministerial Association, Echo editor Len Pizzey, and a representative of Haliburton County Home Support Services.

The committee will appoint its own chairman.

Gooderham gets new Bell service

Bell Canada is introducing automatic number identification in Gooderham on March 2, 1984.

This means that Gooderham telephone users who dial their own long distance calls no longer will hear an operator come on the line to ask their number.

"This will make direct dialing faster and more convenient for our subscribers," said John Kilpatrick, Bell's manager for the area.

Kilpatrick said the equipment will serve customers with individual and two-party line service only. Those with multi-party line service still will be asked by an operator to give their telephone number when they dial their own long distance calls.

Parking tickets issued

If you think the chances of getting a parking ticket in Haliburton are slim, consider the figures presented to Dysart et al council by enforcement officer Bob English on Monday.

According to English's report, a total of 1,094 parking tickets were issued in the municipality in 1983. Four charges were also laid for zoning violations.

Students on radio

Five students in grades 5 and 6 from HHSES spent the afternoon of Tuesday, January 10 at a Peterborough radio station taping a radio programme which they created. You can listen to their half hour show on Acid Rain at 11:30 a.m., Saturday, January 14 on "T.G.I.S." - "Thank Goodness It's Saturday" - on CKQM-FM-105.1 on your radio. The students, who are from the enrichment programme, are Jennifer Brydon, Laura Jackson, Kristen Creelman, John Vuksic, and Shelley Pockett.

Guild's request for more funds from Dysart et al, Wilson said the organization, and in particular the Gallery, "does a lot to bring people and business to our community", adding that he would "hate to lose it".

Reeve Murray Fearrey noted that since the Guild is a county wide organization, it should receive more support at the county level. He urged members to take their plea to county council.

The reeve also indicated that Dysart would not set its budget until at least April, and that the Guild's request would be taken into consideration at that time.

Bailey said manpower in the local force is a problem, noting that there are fewer police officers patrolling Haliburton County than there were 15 years ago.

If an officer is transferred from the Minden Detachment he will not be replaced at present, the detachment commander said.

Cliff Dawson, speaking on behalf of the Rotary Club of Haliburton, told the audience that if they want a safe community in which to live they must come forward and get involved. He said he was disappointed in the small turnout and that he had expected a much larger crowd, since many people had been contacted prior to the meeting date.

Another meeting will be held in the near future and everyone who attended Monday night's meeting was asked to spread the word and bring their neighbours to the next get together. Organizers hope to attract at least 100 people to the next meeting.

Ministry says forest management a priority

EDITOR'S NOTE

Forest management continues to be the topic for debate among local politicians and people involved in the forest industry. Haliburton County council has spent many hours listening to presentations on forest related matters, and is about to consider passing a county wide by-law which would exert some control over the size and species of trees that can be harvested by commercial loggers. Throughout the discussions, some people close to the industry have pointed a finger at the Ministry of Natural Resources, saying that the provincial agency is not doing enough, whether because of lack of funds, or other reasons, to upgrade the condition of local forests. Indeed, the Ministry is under fire across the province for the crisis facing Ontario's forests. In the following article, the Ministry attempts to explain its role and to respond to allegations that forests are being irreparably damaged by large scale logging operations. It is presented here to provide background information for the ongoing discussions about what should be done to upgrade Haliburton County's forests.

From the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources

Forestry in Ontario is very big business. It's one of our largest employers and biggest industries in terms of overall economic importance. The forest industry provides direct employment for 80,000 people in Ontario, and indirect employment for as many as 80,000 others.

Over the years, some people -- including professional foresters, naturalists, politicians and journalists -- have expressed concern that not enough is being to protect the future of Ontario's forest industry.

There is always a need for a concerned public. But the government's forestry specialists know the Ontario situation is manageable. In fact, over the longer term, the picture is quite positive.

The mandate of the Ministry of Natural Resources makes it responsible for all forests on Crown land in Ontario -- which has ome 425,000 square kilometres of productive forest lands -- so the ministry is in effect the landlord for almost all the province's forest companies. And, as Ontario's forest landlord, the ministry must ensure that publicly-owned forests are properly used, protected and renewed.

To live up to its mandate, the ministry has led Ontario into one of the most advanced and effective forest management programs in Canada. This management program has many important elements, some of which are described in the following paragraphs.

First in importance are the ministry's Forest Management Agreements -- undoubtedly the most important development in forestry in Ontario in recent years. Each agreement requires a forest company, working in co-operation with the ministry, to treat, regenerate and tend areas where cutting operations have occurred. The first such agreement was signed in 1980. By the end of 1983, there were 17 FMAs in place covering 37 percent of the total area of the province under licence to the forest industry.

By 1985, the ministry will have 30 Forest Management Agreements, which will cover the majority of the province's forest area under licence to the industry. Ontario's commitment to the program is evidenced by the fact that spending on it has grown more than 10-fold in just three years -- from $3 million in 1980-81 to approximately $32 million in 1983-84.

This concern about the long-term management of Ontario's resources is also reflected in the District Land Use Guidelines which the ministry published in June, 1983. These documents -- covering 45 districts in all -- were the product of extensive study and hundreds of public mee-

A poor light

Dysart et al councillors have shown themselves in a poor light by voting down a proposal to share a portion of the cost of a mobile radar unit for the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. The request came from former county warden Bill Howe of Bicroft, who, in a letter to the reeves of the 10 municipalities in the county, said he considered it a "serious situation" that the local OPP detachment does not have a radar gun available full time, but instead, must share a unit with Coboconk detachment. Howe noted that because of restraint and cutbacks, the provincial government would not make funds available for a Minden based unit. He urged local municipalities to share the estimated $2500 cost equally or on an apportionment basis.

Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey spoke in favour of assisting the purchase, noting that increased use of radar speed checks in the county could save lives. But other councillors did not share this legitimate and responsible point of view. They argued that since the OPP are a provincially administered police force, funds for equipment should come from provincial coffers.

It is depressing to contemplate the irony implicit in council's majority decision. For years, municipal politicians have bemoaned the erosion of their power and influence. They have felt pressured by the increasing scope and presence of provincial regulations governing local activities. Yet when they have a chance to make a positive contribution at the local level to the enforcement of laws that benefit local citizens, including, presumably, themselves, they throw up their hands and say that 'the province' should take responsibility. If that approach had been as common in the past as it seems to be today, Haliburton's Red Cross Hospital might still be waiting for heart monitoring machines, there wouldn't be a rescue bus in Dysart et al, and the local ambulance service would not have a 'jaws of life' machine, to name but three instances where local contributions have made a positive contribution to the health and safety of local citizens.

It is depressing too, to note that councillors could have voted in favour of sharing the cost of the radar unit with no fear that the money would actually be spent. Anyone who knows anything at all about county politics and county politicians could say with certainty that the idea would have been defeated by the majority at the county council table anyway.

Deserving

Dysart et al council shouldn't have to spend a lot of time deliberating about whether or not to increase its financial support for the Guild of Fine Arts, and in particular, for the Rails' End Gallery. As Guild board member Ken Wilson pointed out in a presentation to council on Monday, the gallery is too important to lose.

In Canada, as in most other corners of the world, cultural activities and facilities are seldom self supporting. Art, serious music, theatre and dance may be the foundations of civilization, but like many things of enduring value, they do not appeal to the masses. Culture will always have to be subsidized, and culture in Haliburton is surely no exception.

That doesn't mean, of course, that council has no right to question the operation of the gallery and the Guild. If costs can be brought down, and the organization made to operate more efficiently, council has a responsibility to suggest changes. But council also has a responsibility to see that the gallery continues to enrich the life of Haliburton County. It has met that responsibility admirably in the past. The public must hold it accountable to do so in the future.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Regarding the recent dog and deer episodes, it was with shock and dismay that I read your editorial. You struck off on a tangent from the main stories, to strike a low blow at the hunters of deer. Your comments included - "to stop the suffering inflicted on deer by sportsmen" - "so they will be available for the annual fall slaughter" - "their bone and sinew can be torn apart by bullets in the interests of recreation" - "permit humans to satiate their urge to kill".

May I ask, who and where are these monstrous murderers prowling the woods to perform these foul deeds? Well I'll tell you. They are decent, law abiding citizens, working like everyone else to make an honest living. Probably the majority of your subscribers have at least one hunter in the family. We do not need to take such abuse from the media. You have had your say - give us equal rebuttal space.

Hunting has been around since man was created. Who are you to stand up and tell people what they should or should not do? If you do not like hunting and prefer a game of ping pong, fine, that is your perogative; just don't tell your subscribers what they should or should not do.

A hunter does not hunt for the pleasure of killing. He is not wanting to cause suffering to the animals. His aim is to put a delicious meal on his table, by a fast, clean kill without wasteful damage to the meat. He always strives for that one perfect shot.

Did you, Mr. Editor, when you stuffed yourself with that nice Christmas turkey, give one thought that it was once a live turkey? And that some man had to take that life for you? I don't believe that man was satiating his urge to kill. I believe that he was doing it to support and feed his family. The sportsman gives his quarry a fair chance. He may not even get a shot or he may miss. That poor turkey never had that chance. Your pork chops, your chicken, your roast beef never had a chance. The deer has.

Now, what would things be like without the hunter and trapper? The deer and beaver propogate rapidly when no enemies are present. They will both get so plentiful they become destructive to farmers and property owners. When their food supply becomes exhausted they have to slowly starve. Diseases take over and they must die a lingering death. Soon very few are left. Our deer population is now on the upswing due to the co-operation between the Ministry of Natural Resources and the sportsman. A population balance is being carefully monitored. Let us not waste this valuable renewable resource.

Yours truly,
N. Clayton Lynn

To The Editor:

I would like to thank publicly four county council members who took not only a brave step but expressed some far-sighted thinking which could prove highly productive for our beloved Haliburton County.

They also saved us over half a million dollars.

These councillors are Keith Tallman, Reeve of Monmouth; Gary McKnight, Deputy-Reeve of Dysart et al; Warden Bill Howe of Bicroft and Reeve Ron Gambell of Lutterworth.

As members of the County Roads Committee they plucked up their courage and said "No!" to the wasteful construction of the Ingoldsby Narrows bridge project. Even its strongest proponent and advocate Reeve Ed Pergolas of Anson, Hindon and Minden conceded it would cost "well over $500,000."

Every property owner on a fixed income, or a low income, in Haliburton County says "Thank you, gentlemen."

The decision was a great Christmas present for many of us in Ingoldsby and among the local boating public who feared the destruction of the scenic qualities of our small area of the county and of safe recreational boating.

What a fine, far-sighted decision the Roads Committee made in seeking to explore the designation of the present, solid old Ingoldsby Bridge and others existing at Dorset and Hawk Lake as heritage structures.

The tourism industry in Haliburton is built upon scenic beauty and heritage qualities as seen in fine old structures and buildings surviving from our pioneer days. Tourists don't want a Haliburton County that is rebuilt to look like Scarborough. That's what they are trying to get away from for a few days or weeks.

Thanks County Roads Committee and best wishes to all no matter what side they took in the democratic debate on this issue.

Cordially,
Joe Curtin
Ingoldsby and Toronto

To the Editor:

January seems the traditional month for nostalgia and perhaps you and some readers would be interested in a different vintage than last week's review of 1983.

To eliminate a rattle in the mirror of an antique hall stand-seat, I removed a back panel and found part of a 1911 newspaper. Dated March 15, 1911 it was a brown, dusty, fragile issue of 'The Daily Telegraph', then in its 17th publishing year in Berlin, Ontario.

You paid 1 cent a day for the paper and were

Oh, what a difference a year or two can make when we are talking about the weather. You will recall that last year at this time we had very little snow and very little snowmobiling or skiing. I was just glancing back at an edition of the Echo on January 9, 1980 and believe it or not we had a white Christmas and one story went on to say that during the holiday season there just wasn't enough snow for snowmobiling or skiing, but the lakes in the area were frozen over, and it was just perfect for skating. This year it's a much different story as we have lots of snow for your favourite winter past times.

The grand opening of The Reflection Restaurant and Tavern at Carnarvon, Ontario (formerly Mr. Fogg's) was held on Saturday, January 7. The new owenrs opened with a Special Sirloin Steak Dinner which will continue until Thursday, January 12th. "The Pub" will be open on Fridays and Saturdays from 12 noon to 1:00 a.m. and on Sundays 12 noon to 10:00 p.m. We wish to take this opportunity to wish the new owners the best of luck with their new restaurant business.

Every year about this time the Trent-Severn Waterway, Parks Canada advises the public when travelling lakes and rivers for recreational or other purposes, to check the ice conditions. This is something that should be done every year and this year in particular.

Just a reminder here to the people of Haliburton and Minden. Please leave your outside Christmas tree lights up until after the two winter carnivals which are coming up both in Haliburton and Minden. Each year these lights seem to add a great deal of colour to the carnivals.

It's easy for any of us to criticize this or that but there comes a time when some bouquets should be handed out for a job that is well done. Such is the case with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications County Roads Department and the Municipality of Dysart et al employees. We who live here in Haliburton County can be mighty proud of the great snow clearing operation that these three departments have done in the past and are doing the same today. You will go a long way to find streets and highways that are kept clear of snow the way they are here. Congratulations to all these men who work for the three departments on a job well done.

Bernie Nicholls and the Los Angeles Kings made their second appearance of this N.H.L. hockey season at the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto on New Year's Eve. A large number of hockey fans from West Guilford, Haliburton, Minden and other parts of Haliburton County were on hand at this game to see our own Bernie Nicholls in action. The local fans weren't disappointed as Bernie played a good game in a 5-3 losing cause to the Maple Leafs. According to a story in the Toronto Star referee Don Koharski gave Leafs five of eight penalties he imposed, but he overlooked one to Bernie Nicholls of the Kings. Nicholls, with a high stick, knocked off Leaf Bill Derlago's helmet and the Toronto player, it was disclosed later, suffered a broken nose which needed seven stitches. Bernie is still the highest point getter on the Kings team.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who submitted photos for our weekly Pic of the Past section during 1983. They were very much appreciated. I would like to inform all of our readers that we have some really interesting pictures coming your way this coming year. We hope that you will enjoy them. If you have some old photos that you would like to see printed in the Echo we would only be too glad to receive them from you. Please furnish us with as much information as possible for each photo. Our supply at the present time is very low, so please send in your pictures as soon as possible. Thank you.

If you are every thinking of issuing a bad cheque we would advise you not to present it to Banks General Store on Pine Street in Haliburton. Just the other day I was in their store and noticed a sign over the door behind the cash register that reads as follows: "Name and Address of people issuing NSF cheques in this store will appear in our store window". A word to the wise should be sufficient.

"The Mustard Seed" (formerly the Health Shelf) in Haliburton which is now under new management opened it's doors for business on Tuesday, January 3, 1984. Many changes have been made in the store and the next time your down town drop in and see the large number of items of health food that is available. The new owner is Nada Vaughan and we wish her the best of luck in her new business endeavour.

It would appear that we had more traffic through the Highlands of Haliburton during the holiday season that we did at the same time a year ago. I was talking to the owner of a service station in Haliburton and he told me that he was busier than some weekends in the summer, and all he has to do is look at his books to prove it.

Our thanks this week to Joe Iles of Curry Motors Limited for submitting the above photo showing Harry Brohm standing by his car in front of what was known then as the Star Cafe on Haliburton's main street in 1939. On the far side of the street can be seen Kozy Korner which was then owned and operated by the late Ray Archer. The smaller building was the home of Frank Hodgsons Insurance business and you can notice a small section of the Shell Service Station which was owned by Curry Motors.

From the Chamber

In every community there is a vast amount of work that just wouldn't get done without those people who volunteer their time to do it. Some are motivated by community spirit, some by Christian charity, some by an abundance of free time on their hands. Whatever the reasons, they do so admirably and usually and abundance of free time is hardly the reason. Virtually all the "professional volunteers" whom I know of have little or no time to spart but they always seem to find the time to pitch in and help out in many different organizations. We all owe a lot to these volunteers because without them "It" just wouldn't get done.

The Chamber of Commerce would like to thank the people who have helped us in the near past. Thank you Bob McNabb and his assistants for volunteering to shovel off the roof of the Chamber office last week. Thanks to Black's Hardware for donating the paint and brushes that spruced up our reception area. After getting a fresh coat of paint we kept forgetting to turn on the lights because it was already so bright. Thank you to Katimavik for lending us three lovely ladies, Manon, Vicki and Linda, who painted, decorated and cleaned the office and also helped with many more little chores that we just could never get around to. There are others of course, and although they remain nameless, we thank them all.

Last week, we were greatly saddened by the sudden passing of our vice-president and good friend, Jack MacGregor. Jack was one of those people who always "had a good time." Jack was actively involved in his church, the Rotary Club, the Kanawa Museum and the Chamber of Commerce. His good business sense and his keen sense of humour and his willingness to serve made him a great asset to all. We will miss him.

Congratulations to Dennis Casey (a past president and member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber) and his wife Roxanne on the arrival of their two daughters, Danielle and Lindsay.

To The Editor:

Last Thursday morning, January 5, I was hurrying over to catch a ride to Lindsay to do some shopping with Charles and Eileen Heard. I looked up and saw the County vehicle driven by Mr. Barnhart. I held my hand up for him to stop which he did very promptly and he opened the window and said Good Morning.

I then asked him if it were possible to have some of the snow removed from the Eagle Lake Community Church and he answered very nicely, "as soon as we get caught up."

I thanked him and hurried over to Charles'. We then drove to Haliburton and Lindsay, arriving back at Eagle Lake around 3 p.m.

Mr. Barnhart was just across at the church waiting for traffic to clear to clean around the steps. On behalf of the congregation, Pastor John Smith, the trustees brother Allen Bagg, sister Peggy Fawns and myself we thank you very much for a job well done. God be with you always.

Sincerely,
Elva A. Heard,

Report from Parliament

By Bill Scott M.P.

As the New Year begins, it is traditional to make New Year's resolutions which may last all of a few days or hours, or, if possible all year long.

The following are a few resolutions which I would like to see some people make. Only time will tell whether or not they make them and whether or not they stick by them.

The Rt. Hon. Pierre Trudeau: Resolve to lead his party into an election in spring or early summer of 1984.

The Hon. John Roberts, Minister of Employment & Immigration: Resolve to create permanent long-term jobs for Canadians.

The Hon. Marc Lalonde, Minister of Finance: Resolve to stop using Canadians' money to support deficit financing.

Brian Mulroney: Resolve to bring common sense and frugality back to government when he leads our party to a majority government this year.

Ed Broadbent: Resolve to lead his party into an election in spring or early summer of 1984.

The Rt. Hon. Edward Schreyer: Resolve to continue his contribution to the public life of this country in whatever new task he takes on.

The Hon. Jeanne Sauve: Resolve to look after her health so that she may play a meaningful role as our new Governor General.

The Hon. John Crosbie: Resolve to keep a new pair of muk-luks handy for the budget he will be preparing this year.

President Ronald Reagan: and Yuri Andropov: Resolve to negotiate meaningful arms reduction and limitation treaties to remove the threat of nuclear war.

The Editors of our Constituency newspapers: Resolve to carry all of Bill Scott's articles in 1984.

The Constituents of Victoria-Haliburton: Resolve to continue their tradition of assisting those in need in our community.

Queen's Park Report

John Eakins, M.P.P.

You may have recently been informed through this media of a recent announcement by the Ontario Ministry of Housing to extend Ontario's convert-to-rent programme to all municipalities in the Province. Originally this programme was made available to only fifteen major cities. During a recent meeting with Town of Lindsay officials and the Minister in Toronto, I raised the question of Lindsay's participation and that of the smaller communities of our Counties. I was assured that any applications would be seriously considered. I am delighted that the Minister has now made this official.

The expansion of the programme will allow owners of eligible properties in all communities of Victoria-Haliburton to assess their need for conversion to rental, especially where tight vacancy rates exist.

The applications will be considered on a first-come, first-served basis. The convert-to-rent programme offers 15 years interest free loans of $7,000 per unit to assist in the conversion of non-residential buildings such as warehouses, second floor space above stores and vacant school property.

To receive an application package call collect to 416-585-6391 or you can write to Convert-to-rent programme, Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing, 777 Bay Street, Second Floor, Toronto, Ontario M5G 2E5.

I will be away all this week with an all party Ombudsmans Legislative Committee visiting some of the far points of Northern Ontario. The 12 elected members will review some of the Ombudsman's responsibilities and meet some of our native chiefs. At North Bay, we will tour the Psychiatric Hospital before moving on to Timmins and the Monteith Complex. At Attawapiscat and Fort Albany, we will have the pleasure of touring the reserves and meeting with the Chiefs. We will also tour the James Bay Hospital and visit Moosonee and Moose Factory. By visiting these Northern Areas of the Province we will have a greater understanding of the peoples needs and of the decisions which Ontario's Ombudsman must reach. I am sure the support which we can give to our newly appointed Ombudsman, Dr. Daniel Hill, will be appreciated by him.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

BY ARLIN HACKMAN

Canada's newest National park is having its share of hard knocks. Fortunately, its official guardian, Federal Environment Minister Charles Caccia, has shown himself willing to fight back. And that's particularly important since some of the problems originate in his own department.

Situated just to the southeast of the town of Marathon, Pukaskwa National Park encloses a 1900 square mile tract of rugged pre-cambrian shield, boreal forest and a most spectacular stretch of Lake Superior shoreline. Though it contains some man-made structures which may date back 2000 years, the Kukaskwa landscape proved too difficult for 20th century settlement. It remains so remote that most of its 750 lakes remain unnamed. Fragile sub-arctic plant communities thrive in the chilly micro-climate afforded by Lake Superior, while Woodland Caribou, lynx, wolves, and bears roam relatively free from disturbance.

Scarcely was this last magnificant stretch of Lake Superior wilderness declared a park, than news broke that interior lakes are dead and dying from acid rain. A short time later in August 1983, Parks Canada revealed plans to build a road and marina in the park, for public use as well as park administration.

Solving the acid rain problem requires action in the international arena where Mr. Caccia is but one player, no matter how important or committed. But Parks Canada's operations are entirely in his court and to his great credit the Minister called a halt to the marina just before Christmas.

It was a wise decision. Originally slated for a site on or outside the park boundary, this major marine facility was to be rushed ahead at pulpwood harbour instead, so that Parks Canada could take advantage of a special fund dispensed by the Federal Cabinet. Conservationists protested this choice of location, citing the extreme hazards of recreational boating in the area, the destruction of natural values which the road and facility would involve and the lack of prior consultation with all parties regarding alternative sites. In addition, they questioned why tax dollars should be spent where no private investor had ventured and where existing local communities would have diffiulty tapping the economic benefits.

Despite these criticisms, Mr. Caccia might well have allowed construction to proceed. The funds were already committed when he took office. Instead, he decided to re-direct those funds to other local projects and send the marina back to the drawing board. In doing so he displayed an awareness that it is precisely ill-considered developments such as this which nibble away at our precious natural heritage and public trust until they are both gone. It is hoped his commendable sense of priorities will carry through the national parks centennial in 1985 and beyond.

Family allowance increased

Ontario residents receiving Family Allowances on behalf of their children will benefit from an increase as of January 1984, Health and Welfare Minister Monique Begin announced recently.

Family Allowances paid monthly for children under 18 will rise to $29.95 from $28.52. This increase of five percent is in accordance with "6 and 5" restraint guidelines.

In addition, the refundable Child Tax Credit for the 1983 taxation year will provide up to $343 per child per year based on family income. In order to receive the tax credit, the parent must file an income tax return even if they had little or no taxable income in 1983.

Old Age Security, Guaranteed Income Supplement and Spouse's Allowance benefits are also going up in January.

Haliburton Peewees goal tender Gavin McKnight stares down the opposition in the B championship match of an LKTA sponsored tourney on Sunday. McKnight was named the best goaltender in the B division of the tournament although his team was eliminated 2-0 by Bancroft, who in turn lost to Bracebridge on the B grand championship match.

Stouffville, Bracebridge win Peewee tournament

Teams from Stouffville and Bracebridge were the overall winners of the annual Alcide Carpentier memorial Peewee hockey tournament in Haliburton over the weekend. Stouffville blanked Hillcrest 3-0 to win the 'A' division and Bracebridge held Bancroft scoreless for a 3-0 victory in the 'B' division of the three day tourney, which was sponsored by the Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association.

Haliburton was the only local team in the tournament, and they made it as far as the B championship match on Sunday morning, losing 2-0 to Bracebridge in a hard fought and occasionally chippy match.

In opening round action, Hillcrest took Uxbridge 3-0, Stouffville outpointed Ottawa 6-1, Haliburton got by Bowmanville 4-2, Leaside took Oshawa 2-1 in an overtime shootout, Oak Ridges won over Bracebridge 4-3, also in an overtime shootout, and Bancroft defeated Gravenhurst 5-3.

Saturday, second round games got underway. Uxbridge took Oshawa 1-0, Bowmanville lost 4-2 to Oshawa, Hillcrest took Stouffville 5-3, Haliburton defeated Leaside 1-0, Bracebridge outplayed Gravenhurst 5-2, Hillcrest dominated Uxbridge 6-0, Bancroft outscored Oak Ridges 5-1, and Stouffville blanked Ottawa 6-0 in the consolation championship of Group A.

The 'B' championship pitted Haliburton against Bancroft, and it was a well played match. Haliburton trailed by one goal going into the third period but were unable to come up with a tieing marker and lost out 2-0.

In the consolation match for Group B, Bracebridge outplayed Oshawa 4-2, then went on to win the grand championship matchup against Bancroft.

Stouffville won the 'A' title with a convincing 3-0 shutout of Hillcrest.

In addition to the trophies that went to the winning teams and the medals that were handed out to players on losing sides in the later rounds, a number of individual trophies were also presented.

Winner of the best forward in the 'A' division trophy was Hillcrest's #5, Mike Davis. Best forward in the 'B' division was #8 of Bracebridge, Cory Veitch.

The best defenseman in the 'A' division was Stouffville's #2, Brad MacDonald, while the 'B' division winner was Bancroft's #5, Cory Borrowman.

The award for the best goalie in the 'A' division went to Stouffville's Scott Evans. In the 'B' division, the best goalie award was presented to Haliburton's Gavin McKnight.

The most valuable player of the tournament and winner of the scholarship to Haliburton's Hockey Haven camp was Cory Veitch of Bracebridge.

The sportsmanship award was earned by Oshawa's Scott's Colonels, coached by Richard Plume.

Haliburton's Peewees found themselves in a very physical game during the B championship final of the Alcide Carpentier tournament on Sunday. The local boys went down to a defeat 2-0 against Bancroft.

Huskies lose squeaker in Minden

BY BRYAN ABBS

Before a nice crowd at Minden arena on Sunday afternoon, Huntsville nipped the Haliburton Huskies 6-5. The score was actually flattering to the Huskies, who played a lack-lustre game for two periods and finally got into gear in the third, but the damage had been done.

Bernie Upton had a three goal effort for Haliburton in a lost cause and Colin Newell was sensational in goal or the score could have been much higher.

Haliburton put on early pressure to start period one, but it was Huntsville who opened the scoring at 2:11 with both teams playing a man short. Huskies tied the game at one on a power play with Upton getting his first of the game when he snared a loose puck and scored unassisted. Haliburton went ahead at 5:57 when Nicholls took a Kelly Mitchell pass and slapped it home.

With the Huskies two men short, Hunstville tied the score at 13:39. Huskies went ahead 3-2 at 17:55 with Huntsville a man short, Nicholls perfect pass to Upton for the power play goal.

Again penalties proved the Huskie downfall. With Bishop serving an interference call Huntsville tied the game on the power play at 13:03. Huntsville went ahead with two Huskies in the penalty box and one for Huntsville.

The third saw both teams trade two goals apieace. Huntsville went ahead 5-3 at the 2:18 mark. Huskies got one back at 3:17 when Upton counted his third. The teams were five a side when Mitchell connected from Nicholls at 9:31 and it looked like the Huskies would come back. But at 12:38 a partial break

Nicholls leads league

David Nicholls of the Haliburton Huskies continues to lead the Georgian Bay Junior C league scoring race. After 26 games, Nicholls has 24 goals and 63 assists for a league leading 87 points. His next closes rival is Mark Antonia of Gravenhurst, who has 55 points. With only four games remaining in the schedule, Nicholls should definitely win the scoring crown.

The Haliburton club has three other scorers in the top of the Northern Division of the league. They are Bernie Upton with 46 points, Scott Rae with 42 points and Scott Arbuthnot with 34 points.

Nicholls has set a torrid pace since the beginning of the regular season, displaying the "Nicholls" scoring and playmaking ability similar to his brother Bernie of the Los Angeles Kings and Erin of the Haliburton Bantams.

With the playoffs fast approaching, the Huskies hope that Nicholls continues his scoring ways.

Herringbones and Baskets

Editor's note: The author of this column says, with tongue visibly in cheek, that he is a 60 year old Swede whose expertise on local cross country trails would put most 30 year old Canadians to shame. His column will appear while the snow, and his energy, last.

By 'SVEN SVENSON'

Cross country skiing conditions last weekend were excellent. Saturday was overcast -10° C or less. There wasn't much wind but there was about 10 cm of fresh powdery snow on the trails with a base of about 70 cm. That's pretty deep if you get off the packed trail.

My skis still had orange wax liberally spread on them from the previous weekend. It's good for the range of -5 to +3° but I used the skis just as I found them and they worked fine. Three people had mentioned having trouble with wax during the previous week, but perhaps one should only ski on the weekend.

Boris and I took the Glebe Park shortcut to the Jim Beef trail. We used the herringbone a few times without slipping much. We went west for about two kilometres past the spot where Glen Blair had come through from the east with the grooming machine. I took the west branch of the Glebe Park Loop coming back. Some intrepid soul may yet have to break the trail on the east branch if the grooming machine misses it.

Sunday was warmer, about -5° C, sunny, with no wind and about 5 cm of new powdery snow again. I went by myself to cut back some brush along the Jim Beef. Ulf Tampere seemed surprised. He showed me a picture of himself cutting brush around there in November.

This time I went right across the Jim Beef and down the Lakeview Trail. The old wax was still working well. Those two medical men Holmenkol and Haas had been along there marking the trail with blue diamond shapes. That means it is of intermediate difficulty. All we need to know is that there is one long steep downslope as you go north that is a little less challenging than Suicide Hill on the Lookout Trail at Pinestone. The Lakeview Trail is 2.7 km long. The ski track is well set but it hasn't been groomed.

Next weekend should be equally good as last weekend on all the trails but if you are looking for a challenge try the Jim Beef. Allow yourself three hours and plan to ski 10 km one way. You won't meet many friends and neighbours on it. I met the assistant innkeeper of Valhalla on it, one person in two days, but the trail should be ready. It has been skied over the entire length, and by next weekend it should even be widened and packed by the grooming machine. Good skiing!

Haliburton Peewee players found themselves on the defensive on Sunday as they faced a fast skating Bancroft squad in the B division final. Haliburton put in a good effort, but could not gain the advantage and had to settle for a 2-0 loss. Twelve teams were on hand for the annual Alcide Carpentier memorial hockey tournament.

Powassan wins juvenile tournament

A Juvenile tournament was held Saturday, January 7. Scores were: Minden 8, Rundle Park 3; Rundle Park 3, St. George 7; Minden 0, Harmony 4; Harmony (Oshawa) 5, St. George (Peterborough) 0; St. George 0, Fenelon Falls 13; Harmony 2, Powassan 8; Fenelon Falls 5, Black Hawks (Oshawa) 5; Fenelon Falls 9, Valley View Park 2; Black Hawks 1, Powassan 4; Powassan 6, Valley View Park (Oshawa) 3.

Dollo's IGA Trophy went to Powassan, who were champions. The Minden Drug Store Trophy was presented to Harmony team from Oshawa, the runners up. In the consolation, the Don Gartshore Memorial Trophy went to Fenelon Falls, while the St. George team from Peterborough got the Mae's Minden Trophy as runners up.

In Minden's first game against Rundle Park from Oshawa: first period, 8:54, Scot Hamilton unassisted; 7:37, Rundle Park; 7:12, Jeff Stamp from Eldon Bull and Jim McKelvey on a power play; 3:54, Rundle Park; 1:39, Kevin Hamilton unassisted; 0:59, Kevin Hamilton from Glen Evans and Doug Schell; second period, 4:20, Rundle Park; 3:07, Scot Hamilton from John McKelvey; 1:44, Jim McKelvey from Blaine McKelvey; third period, 5:32, Daryl Ward from Glen Evans on a power play; 1:53, Kevin Hamilton from Doug Schell.

The Atoms played in Humphrey on Saturday, January 7. Final score was Minden 7, Humphrey 1.

Scoring for Minden were: Rob Ackerblade from Darren Sawyer; Darren Sawyer from Ackerblade and Mike Muli; Jamie Dollo unassisted; Rob Ackerblade unassisted; Randy Bull from Steven Beaver; Randy Bull from Jason Todd; and Mike Muli from Rob Ackerblade.

Aaron Hie recorded the win in goal for Minden. The whole team put forth a strong effort.

Upcoming games: A full weekend of hockey is coming up at Minden arena. The annual Pee Wee tournament starts Thursday night and continues all day Saturday and Sunday with championship game slated for Sunday at 6:00 p.m. A total of 16 teams are taking part. As in past years many of the teams will be staying over, therefore billets

Courier and Ives

By VIRGINIA MUENZEL

We took one of our long hikes with the dog a couple of weeks ago. Just before the snow got too deep. There's a nice big hill across the road from us. It goes up into the bush with a couple of wood lots belonging to some friends of ours. On the few occasions when the hubby and I get to walk together, we like to go up there. We walk the same trail, yet every walk is different.

This time it had snowed the night before. You know, that snow that comes down in big, fluffy flakes. The kind you used to catch on your tongue when you were a kid. Before acid snow. It looks just a Christmas card by Courier and Ives with the snow clinging to the boughs of the evergreens. And it's quiet. Not deadly silent. Just soft quiet. Like all the sounds of life were muted in awe of the beauty of the place. You can almost feel the peace envelop you as you walk deeper into the bush.

Then, instead of the myriad of noises, each sound becomes unique and distinct. The snow crunching under our feet. The rifle cracks of the trees splitting from the cold. The raven's gravely crowing and the chickadee's delicate song.

Sometimes a gust of wind will come up and you can watch its path as it sends spirals of snow into the air from off the tree branches, humming gently through the long needle pines.

The dog loves the bush hikes. Of course, she resents the leash. She's a husky, and delights in the snow. In a hurry, starting out, she helps pull me up the hill. Stopping to investigate every snowshoe hare track. If we come upon a particularly fresh track of any king, she strains at the leash and tries to drag me off the trail to dig up a hole that smells promising.

I could never understand that purpose of snowmobiling through the bush. The noise of them covers up the natural sounds. They go too fast to see any of the surrounding beauty. Besides, they have to concentrate on where they're going. They never see the tiny tendrils of baby ferns poking through the snow. Or spot a black squirrel sticking its head out from a hole in a tree. Or the brilliant blue of the jays against the pure white snow. Nor can they hear the trickle of a spring running underneath the ice in a gully.

Fortunately, coming home is mostly downhill. Even dog is slowing down. Then it's always nice to cosy up to the wood stove with a cup of hot chocolate, with the dog at our feet dreaming of the rabbit she would like to have caught.

We've just walked through a Christmas card.

Information Centre News

Did you know -- that as of October 1, 1983, snowmobile owners should go to their nearest motor vehicle licensing office and purchase a one-time permit for their snowmobile? In Haliburton you go to Varty's Jewellery & Gifts, Main Street, Haliburton 457-2911. If you live in Minden, you should go to Minden Boat Works, Highway #35, 286-2248.

Under the new system, owners pay a one-time permit fee of $25 and that fee will be valid for the lifetime of the machine.

Now when you purchase a validation tag for a vehicle that has been already registered, you will receive two tags. They should be placed on either side of the cowling in the same location as previous tags.

For new vehicles registered after October 1, 1983, you will be issued two identical decals that should also be placed on either side of the cowling. These new stickers are approximately the size of motorcycle plates. The validation tags would then be placed on the upper right-hand corner of the decal as on regular license plates.

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications feels that this system will eliminate the bother of an annual fee and will result in a more accurate up-to-date vehicle registration file.

For information on this and many other subjects why not call us at the County Information Centre. We are located across from Emmerson Lumber in Haliburton in the Drag River Municipal Building. We are open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. til 4:00 p.m. Or you can call us at 457-2733.

And remember, you will never know the answer until you ask the question.

Writers' Corner

It's Lonely There

It's a lonely road we travel,
Despite family, colleague and friend,
For alone we come into the world,
And alone we face the end.

We live a life in public,
That seems proper, good, and true,
but in the secret, lonely heart
May live another "you".

The crowds may roar approval,
The critics adjudge us fame,
But in our solitary heart
We know if we've "played the game".

And so, we keep within the group,
We are proper in our days,
But deep within our lonely place
Is secret shame for erring ways.

And it is lonely there -
And it will ever lonely be
Until, alone, Wisdom we learn,
And Wisdom shall set us free.

Senior League

By BERT HARRISON

Dear readers, Christmas and New Year's both coming on Sunday, gave the staff an extra holiday. We hope they enjoyed them. While they were away, and as we start out on the New Year, may the sun shine brighter and the dark clouds disappear.

At service in the chapel this New Year's Day, the Thompsons came, Ruth to lead the singing, Harold to read the lesson and also to pray. Then Rev. Burgess spoke on a verse taken from the "Book of Samuel" Ebenezer, hitherto the Lord has helped us.

Doris Vaughan had a birthday on the first day of 1984, and as the month rolls on I am sure there will be more.

Rev. John Phillips of Haliburton Anglican Church, along with his assistant Julie Kennedy, came down this Tuesday to deliver an interesting New Year's message. Fred Ballard came the music to play. We thank you all for coming this new January day.

We are having a real cold winter, one of the old fashioned kind, with temperatures away below zero and snow right up to your behind. Things are getting back to normal after the long holiday, staff returning to their work after being away.

Doris showed us movies Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock instead of two, Beautiful Lennard Island and an Englishman's Horse. Linda and others needed the Auditorium at two o'clock, where they were taking a course. Daryl Crowe came Tuesday night, and entertained us fine, we are pleased to see Darryl come most any time.

They took Mrs. Annie Cox to hospital, Wednesday afternoon. We hope she will be feeling better and back with us soon.

The tea party was served by the ladies of Haliburton Legion on Thursday afternoon. We had our resident council meeting coming up or we would have played some fancy tunes. We thank you for coming anyway, we would like to say.

We have a Residents' Council each month of the year. Any resident having a problem at the meeting must appear, then the problem is discussed. We try to settle it without too much fuss.

Bingo was called Thursday night by Larry McKnight and daughter, also Don Cubbige. Some players made out really well, six bingos were won by Millie Wood.

It was sing song time again this Friday afternoon. Grace came to lead the singing, Norma to play the tunes. Grace always has some humourous poems which we all enjoy, and she sang so lovely "Bless This House", "Oh Troubled Heart, Be Still", and "Danny Boy".

We have Ina McGuire in hospital. We wish her all the best and hope she will soon be back again with us at Hyland Crest. We hear Angus in his workshop, he works away day after day and can't seem to stop.

Things are running smoothly here. The cooks see we are well fed, and the nurses come around at night to tuck us into bed.

The sympathy of all here goes to Ruby Lewis on the sudden passing of her brother-in-law, Stan Roberts.

Friendship buds and blossoms. Like summer in full dress.

Friendship brings a harvest of joy and happiness.

Friendship is sustaining, to winter winds and snow.

Friendship can't be hoarded, by being shared it grows.

Seniors enjoyed Christmas party

By GLADYS REID

The Haliburton Highlands Seniors Christmas party was well attended at the Legion Hall on December 15.

Catered by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion, the prospect of a delicious turkey dinner was a plus factor in the party being such a great success.

Ably M.C.'d by Jack Bassett, president of the club, the entertainment started with a sing-song of popular Christmas songs.

Peggy Neville sang some old English numbers in the style of Gracie Fields, and the general concensus was, if

Friday, January 27 has been set aside as Volunteers' Day. Haliburton County Home Support Services wishes to thank all those who deliver meals on wheels, provide transportation, friendly visiting and many other services. This celebration will be held at the Pinestone Inn at 10:30 a.m. with a noon dinner and continue until 2:30 p.m. We are planning an interesting program and hope that all volunteers will participate - prospective volunteers are also welcome. Without volunteers our organization could not assist seniors to remain independent in their own homes. So, to all our volunteers, who number over 400, we take our hats off to you and thank you again and again for your contributions.

If you wish to attend, please call the office at 457-2941 to make a dinner reservation - the cost is $4.00.

"One of the crying needs of society is the revival of gentleness and of a refined considerateness in judging others."

Yes; we had a white Christmas, and a white before Christmas and a white after Christmas. In fact, we have had so much white stuff that it is becoming a problem to know where to put it. The parking lots get smaller and the walks and driveways get narrower as the snow piles up higher and higher. And it is only the first of January. Let's hope that we have a bit of a reprieve before any more fluff comes tumbling out of the sky. I was at a party over the holiday and there was a man and a lady who predicted, and were very serious about it, that we would have mild weather by the middle of January. And, being an optimist, I believe them.

Harry and Blanche Clayton spent Christmas with their son Bob and his family in Bracebridge and then went on to Thornhill to be with their daughter Janet Croce and her family where they plan on spending some of the winter, getting away from the deep freeze.

Ruth and John McLennan entertained the family for Christmas at their attractive home on Paint Lake. There were 17 present which included a Vietnamese couple and their baby. Eleanor Burton, Ruth's sister, and her husband Russ of Scarborough, are quite involved with the couple from Vietnam as they are boat people sponsored by the church that they attend in Scarborough. They had never seen snow before and were quite impressed and apparently love living in Canada even though the climatic conditions are quite different from those they left in Asia.

Norm and Doveina MacKay had their family home for Christmas and will have another celebration on New Years day which is Norm's birthday and we wish him many, many more.

Art and Dot Lock had their son Leonard and his wife Carey and their two sons for Christmas dinner, then travelled to Aurora to have an evening meal with daughter Judy, her husband George Young and family, stayed overnight and came home Boxing Day.

Andy MacKay had her four sons and their families for Christmas dinner; Gordon from Midland, Wallace from Bowmanville and Don and Clinton from Dorset. Her daughter Margaret, her husband Alec Stroud and family from Stayner spent New Years with her mother.

I understand that Great Gray Owls are not too common in this area but one was found on a side road near Goose Lake on Highway 35. It was dead but what happened to it is not known as there were no marks of injury on the bird. It is a beatiful bird and has a wing span of 52 inches. I understand that the people who found it will have it mounted.

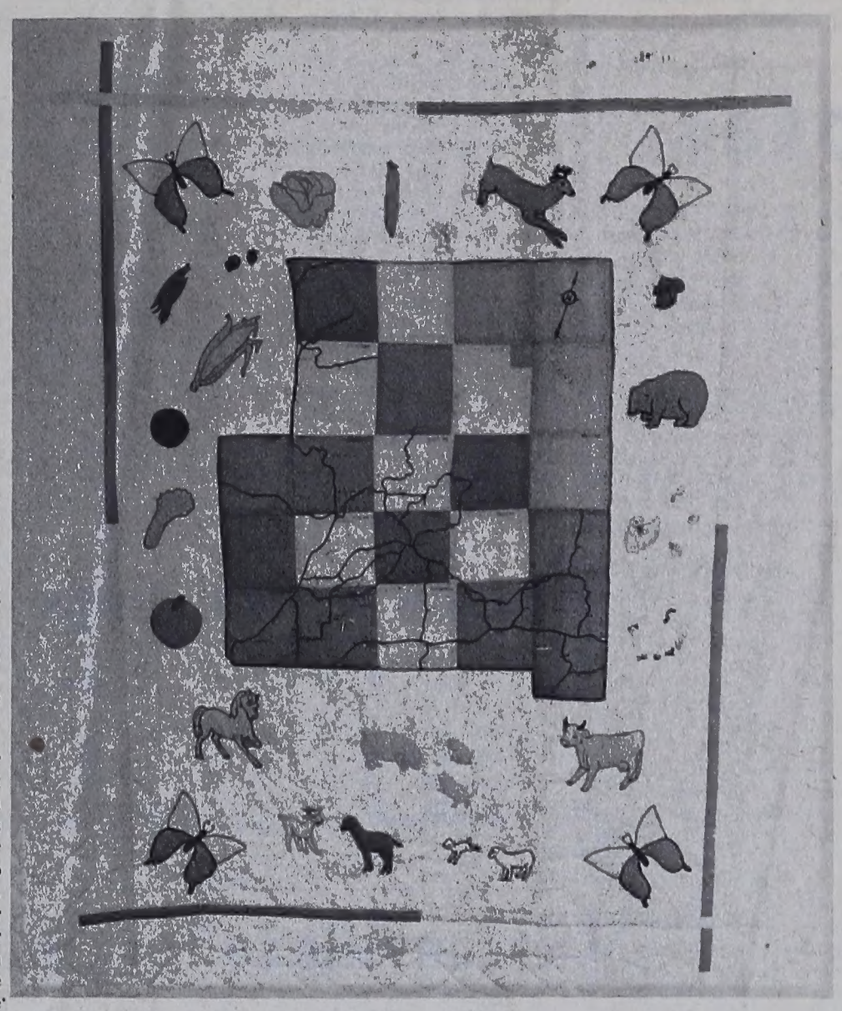
There is an S.O.S. for helpers for the Dorset Brownie Pack. There are ten little girls registered in this group and it is impossible for one person, the Leader, to cope with a group this large. They are hoping that one or more mothers will volunteer to give some assistance with the girls. Otherwise, the project may have to be abandoned and the girls deprived of this activity, which would be a shame.

The Dorset Senior Club will hold their first general meeting of 1984 on Wednesday, January 11 at 12:30 noon with a finger food luncheon followed by a business meeting. There will be a Committee meeting on Monday, January 9 at 1 p.m.

The foot clinic this month will be held on the 18th. Please call for appointments, 766-2237.

H.H. To have nice cozy boots and shoes cut insoles from styrofoam trays that you get under products from the grocery store. If the trays are soiled they may be washed and dried before using. They can be changed when soiled and don't cost anything.

Hugh McEachern, who is a resident of Hyland Crest in Minden, celebrated his 92nd birthday on January 2. Congratulations and may he have many more. Happy birthday to Don Little who adds another year on January 6.



This quilt is being raffled by the Haliburton County Farmers Association. The draw will be made January 21 at the association's annual banquet in Minden.

Carnarvon News

Sorry there has been no news sent in for a while. December gave us sad times as well as glad times; when our dear neighbour and friend, Blanche Windsor passed away at her home in Florida and Veronica Cowen, wife of Max Cowen of Penetang also passed away. Max is the youngest son of the Jim Cowens and was born and raised here in the village.

Spending Christmas away from home were the Tom Youngs, who were in Mono Mills and the Sinclair Russells, at their daughter's chalet at Hidden Valley, Huntsville.

Mrs. Sadie Darling and son Ross of Toronto spent Christmas with the Bill McKays.

Mrs. Edith Russell and Dee Jennings were in Toronto for Christmas with the Gardners.

Most of the families around had their families with them for the holidays from their homes in various parts of Ontario.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. F. Tomlinson. On Thursday, January 5 Gloria presented her husband with a (believe it or not) eleven pound, seven ounce son born in Peterborough.

Don't forget to get your tickets early for the annual dinner at Carnarvon C.E. Building in conjunction with the Minden Winter Carnival on January 28.

We are sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Harry Cowen. He was a long time resident of Horseshoe Lake, where he operated a farm for many years. Our condolences to his family.

Wilberforce News

We are a little late with this very important news about the arrival of the Wilberforce first baby of 1984. He is Karl George Robert Klapow. He was born at the Peterborough Civic Hospital on January 3 at 1 p.m. He weighed in at 7 lb. 1 oz. and is said to be a very handsome fellow.

His parents are Hilary and Robert Klapow and proud grandparents are Lucille and Walter Klapow. Congratulations to the family.

The January meeting of Wilberforce UCW was held at the home of Sally Mather. The devotional was ably taken by Marion Barclay who reminded us all how essential prayer is to a Christian life and of the well known quotation of Lord Alfred Tennyson: "More things are wrought by prayer than man ever dreams of". The group paid tribute to the late Gertrude Miller, a faithful and long time member of UCW. Names were drawn for a prayer sister in the group for this year whereby they are especially remembered in our prayers and a card sent on their birthdays. Following the meeting, lunch was served by the hostess and one of the nicest places to be is around Sally's table with a cup of tea. This item was written by Marg. Harrison, UCW secretary.

A good crowd gathered at the Monmouth Curling Rink on Saturday. Terry Barbour and Don Fabreau had drawn up an interesting evening of free curling and entertainment to stimulate an interest in the game and so build up the membership. Eight rinks took part in the curling and participated in a series of fun events on ice. Of great interest were films that were shown of the two final 1983 Brier games skipped by Ed Werenich, whose team went on to win the Silver Broom. A number of people signed up for the coming games. A Club bonspiel is scheduled for January 13 and 14.

Those attending hockey games or figure skating at the arena will be please to know that help is at hand to improve the heating arrangement. The present electric heating has long been inadequate. No replacement parts are available and the company making these parts has gone out of business. This type of heating is being replaced by a gas type of propane heaters with the cost of fuel consumption being two third the cost of the electric service.

Hydro to reduce voltage

Ontario Hydro will conduct a routine voltage reduction test on Tuesday, January 17.

Voltage on the Ontario electrical system will be reduced by 5 per cent for two one-hour periods: from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. EST and from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. EST. For most customers the effects of the reduction will be imperceptible.

The purpose of the test is to ensure that in an emergency involving, for example, the breakdown of a large generating unit, Hydro could prevent power interruptions. A 5 per cent voltage reduction is equivalent to more than 500,000 kilowatts, enough to meet the needs of more than 180,000 homes.

Haliburton Lumber loses

Bishop and Wilson surprise Curry Motors 4-1

It was a night of surprises on Monday at the Dysart arena. The Bishop and Wilson team, who have had a hard time handling their competitors in the men's recreational league, came up with a convincing 4-1 win over Curry Motors. And in the second game of the night, league leading Haliburton Lumber went down to a 6-3 defeat at the hands of Emmerson Lumber.

Curry Motors netted the first goal in the opening match, as Eric Edwards found the mesh with help from Jim Burk at the three quarter mark of the first period.

With 7:35 left to play in the second, Bishop and Wilson tied the score, Ken Reiley getting the marker, assisted by Steve Cooper.

A little over a minute later Cooper scored unassisted to give the surveyors the lead.

With 3:55 remaining in the second frame, Jim Winn added what proved to be an insurance marker with help from Greg Bishop.

Curry Motors was unable to come back and early in the third period, Stuart Baker gave his team goal number four on an unassisted play.

It was a sweet victory for the Bishop and Wilson squad, who've had more than their share of losses in the first half of the season.

The second game of the night proved to be a notable one, as Haliburton Lumber failed to find the scoring punch that has kept them on top of the league.

Neither team connected in the first period, and it wasn't until the 9:36 mark of the second that Gary Brohman beat John Cornell in the Haliburton Lumber net to give Emmerson Lumber the lead. Brohman was helped by Steve Barker.

The one goal advantage held for the rest of the period. Only 16 seconds into the third frame, Joe Roberts made it 2-0 for Emmerson with help from Dean Curry and Brian Mulholland. At the three minute mark, Roberts got his second with help from Steve Barker and Emmerson Lumber was ahead 3-0.

With 14:03 left in the game, Haliburton Lumber finally got on the board. Glen Scully got the goal, assisted by Larry Allen and Kevin Newell.

Joe Roberts completed the hat trick at the 9:03 mark to put Emmerson Lumber in front 4-1. Seconds later, Kevin Newell scored for Haliburton Lumber to make it 4-2 with help from Pat Wilson, and with 7:28 left to play, Haliburton Lumber moved to within one goal, as Paul Morissette scored on a solo effort.

But Emmerson Lumber kept the pressure on, and would not be denied the victory.

With 5:19 left to play, Gary Brohman got his second of the night, assisted by Bill Johnson and Mark Schell, and with only seven seconds remaining on the clock, Joe Roberts got number four and his team's sixth goal, assisted by Dean Curry.

Peewees strong in tourney

Defeat of Leaside one of the best games of weekend

The Haliburton OMHA Pee Wees played some fine hockey this past weekend in the local Pee Wee tournament, winning their first two games before losing to Bancroft in the 'B' Championship game.

On Friday night, the boys played Bowmanville and after a shaky start, which saw Bowmanville take an early 1-0 lead, came on to play solid two way hockey to win by a score of 4-2. Kelly Youngdale scored the first two Haliburton goals unassisted with other markers by Darren Warburton from Shaun Perrin and Kyle Hewitt and John Vuksic from Jeff Francis. Gavin McKnight played an excellent hockey game as he did throughout the tournament.

On Saturday, the local boys took on the squad from Leaside and this was one of the most exciting games of the tournament. Both teams had several good scoring chances only to be turned aside by excellent goal tending by both goaltenders. Jason Smith scored the only goal of the game early in the second period assisted by Darren Byers and Greg Scheffee.

This win put the team in the championship game against Bancroft. This game was a close, hard fought game with the locals, although having several good scoring opportunities, coming up on the short end of a 2-0 score.

The team travels to Minden this coming weekend for another tournament, and if they continue their strong play, they will have an excellent chance of coming away with some hardware.

Happy birthday to Terry Hartin, Saturday, January 7 and brother Roger, Tuesday, January 10.

Well, folks, in a previous column I had mentioned 1983 was a good year to be long gone for our family and we are looking forward to better things in 1984. Anyway, right to the bitter end 1983 gave it to us. Just after we had arrived home from the P.O. we received a call from Bill's sister in Miami, Florida. "Mame", whom many of you met when last she and her husband, Bill Campbell visited with us, called on New Year's Eve to inform us she had awakened at 3 a.m. to check on Bill, who had been very ill for a long time and was suffering far too much, to find he had passed away in his sleep. Cremation was to take place either on the Eve or on New Year's Day with his ashes to be strewn over the ocean. Let's pray that in this year of 1984 which George Orwell had predicted all kinds of dire things to happen, way back thirty-five years ago, may see the cure for cancer as part of a list of good things in the year ahead. Rest in peace, Bill. He suffered more than anyone should. He also missed seeing his son Scott become officially a Florida policeman later this month.

Then, on New Year's morning, our son Bill received a call from Lindsay from one of the boys he works with asking Bill to come into the office early Tuesday morning as his family also received bad news on New Year's Eve. A nephew, whom I'm sure many of you know, Randy Everson, was killed around eight p.m. December 31 in a snowmobile accident. Randy's parents are Shirley and Murray Everson who used to be a Superior Propane delivery man in this area.

Winner of the 50/50 draw at the Kinmount Legion on December 17 was Al Young of Kinmount who took $19.75 home with him.

CAS is seeking volunteer help

The Volunteer Program at the Children's Aid Society is a fulltime service of the Society designed to provide support to parents and children in the way of transportation, parent relief and assisting with home and child management skills.

At present, there is a special need for volunteer drivers, who can provide transportation for parents and children to various appointments in and around Haliburton County. Reimbursement for mileage is provided.

The C.S.A. expects volunteers to give a commitment, to be reliable, punctual and to respect confidential information. At the same time, volunteers can expect an orientation to the Agency and the volunteer program and supervision to the assigned tasks.

Your help will make a difference. For further information on how you can help, please contact Denise Walker, volunteer co-ordinator at 457-1661.

Essonville to Tory Hill 'classic' opened

The eleventh annual Essonville to Tory Hill Cross Country Ski Classic was opened to the general public this year by its founders and sustainers, Rex and Nancy Jackson of the Essonville Line.

"The event started out as a family ski run on New Year's Day," commented Rex. "It was a super way of getting friends and kids out into the bush the day after the New Year's party. After a couple of years, our circle of friends just assumed that the day after ski trek was a part of the new year's celebration and began planning for it. This year we decided to invite everyone who would like fresh air followed by hot chocolate."

The run starts, traditionally, at the Jackson's farm west of Highway 121 on the Essonville Line. Starting time is 1:30 p.m. to give New Year's Eve revellers a chance to sleep in. The route cuts behind the Jackson farm, through Ken Noble's sugar bush, and parallel the highway through new growth, across a couple of beaver ponds, along old bush roads, and on some newer skidoo tracks, emerging on the north shore of the shallow lake at Tory Hill. But the road is never in sight.

With switchbacks and detours for sightseeing, the trail runs a little over six kilometers, and takes a leisurely two hours to complete. This includes time out for a trailside sip and snack.

Conditions this year were ideal. Snow in the bush had a firm base with about four inches of powder, making trail breaking fairly easy. The skies were clear, there was no wind, temperatures were five degree below freezing, and the evergreens were still heavily laden with snow. Nature watchers reported that rabbit trails were plentiful and chickadees were quite active.

Jackson says he went public in a small manner this year, passing out handbills to houses along the Essonville Line and along highway 121. The same notices were posted in Findlays General Store and Irene's Esso (both in Tory Hill) and in Agnew's General Store and the Texaco station in Wilberforce.

Among those taking part this year were Mike and Eve Ogden of Deanwood estate in Stouffville and their children, Jamie and Haidee, Margaret Jackson of Guelph, Ted and Gail Morris of Montreal, and Ruth Strong of Tory Hill. The youngest participant was Kelly Strong, 10, taking her first cross country run.

"We started inviting the public this year," said Jackson, "because the trip is a fun thing and because we want to keep the name of Essonville alive. It is no longer on the Ontario maps, but it is still here and so are the people who live in Essonville. We have renamed our farm "The Essonville Village Farm", because we firmly believe in community identification and community pride. We are quite pleased with the twenty people who turned out this year, and next year we'll do it again.

Kinmount Korner

Bill and Dora Lilley of Norland spent a few days recently with son Gerry Smith of Orangeville.

Mary and John Pyke spent New Year's Day with Helen and Alex Graham.

I hope Joyce Hills and Marg Viney are free from their severe colds very soon.

I was sorry to hear Mary Snoddon and her mother have been on the sick list lately. I hope all is well with both of you soon.

Michelle and Bruce Newman had their two young daughters ill before Christmas and I hope they are both well by now also.

Results of the Galway Wednesday night euchre party are: ladies' high, Joyce Wright; ladies' low, Betty Stuart; men's high, Malcolm Crego; men's low, Colling Longhurst; most lone hands, Ken Stuart and Leon Wright.

The Kinmount and District Horticultural Society will celebrate their annual meeting with nominations and elections of officers and directors, at the Kinmount Legion Hall on January 25 at 6:00 p.m. There will be a penny table which is always lots of fun and the usual delicious pot luck dinner. There is no charge for this very enjoyable evening - just come out, bring your own dishes and cutlery and your own favourite dish to add to the table of goodies that everyone enjoys so much. Do come out and bring a friend. See you there. All donations are gratefully received towards our Society and we hope if not already, you will become a member very soon.

St. Patrick's CWL card party results on December 20 were: ladies' high, Ruth Menard; ladies' low, Clara Watson; men's high, Hugh Phillips; men's low, Ambrose Watson; lone hands, Patty Dudman. Door prize: Clara Watson. Special draw prize winners were: Gladys Anderson, Nora Crego, Bill Menard, Mary Pearson and Bertha Stata. There were six tables.

St. Patrick's CWL card party results on Tuesday, January 3 were: men's high, Ambrose Watson; men's low, Norah Brandon; ladies' high, Bertha Stata; ladies' low, Ruth Menard; most lone hands, Ambrose Watson and again there were six tables of players.

Hilda Chynoweth spent a week recently with a daughter, Barbara, at her Toronto home. While Hilda was away things were happening around home on 503. The roof on an old log barn completely caved in from the weight of snow and a granddaughter, Janice and her little daughter, Kellie Jo arrived from their Orangeville home to visit with the whole family for a few days. Phyllis McHale who is a daughter to Hilda and lives with her mom, fell, hurting her head and wrenching her neck. Come home, Hilda, all is forgiven.

I hope Janice McHale, Phyllis McHale, Joyce Hills, Lil Platt, Pam Swinson, Alex Graham, Mrs. Saunders, and anyone else who may be on the hurting list is feeling much better by the time you read this.

Happy birthday wishes to Ivan Jones on January 7, Charlie Molyneaux, 80 on January 9 and Bill Lilley, who will be 77 on January 19.

Be careful when driving out from driveways these days. With the pileup of snow it's impossible to see oncoming traffic in many areas. Also, your small pets need extra attention during these conditions. One lady told me last Friday they'd lost their cat to a car when the cat couldn't get out of the way in the snow.

We lost a beautiful Persian cat the same way a few years back. "Dusty" was carewise but couldn't get out of the way when she got into a rut in the snow.

Stay well and happy, read the Echo, call me at 488-2353. Happy New Year.

Norland Natter

By KELLY GRAHAM

Well, the weather has been mediocre, the novelty of the new year has faded away and Christmas is long gone; it appears I am without an opening remark. I guess I'll start right in with the news.

The winner of Shirley Harrison's Wintario Ticket last week was Helen Graham. The draw has been discontinued for the winter months.

Here's a great winter tip to keep your car lock from freezing. Every once in a while rub a lead pencil over your keys. The graphite in the pencil will help keep your lock from freezing.

Well, exams are over and report cards are on their way. A lot of kids have their fingers crossed.

The ice fishing season is underway. I hope you can hook a few meals. However, please try to remember that in some areas slush and ice conditions are not desirable.

The Kids Co-op is coming to Norland! The parent-run, non-profit playschool will be held at the Norland Community Hall on Monday and Wednesday morning from 10 - 11:30 a.m. There are several openings for new members starting on January 9. The cost is $10 for one child, $15 for two. If interested call Suzanne, 454-1054, or Annette, 454-1506.

Farm News

An Agricultural Outlook Conference is held in Ottawa in mid-December each year, hosted by agriculture Canada. A copy of the news reports developed in that Conference reached the County agricultural offices last week. The following is a summary of the key points presented at the Outlook Conference by Agriculture Canada economists.

Net farm income is expected to increase by 6-7% in 1984 over the estimated 1983 income. However, this will still be about 5% below the 1981 net farm income.

Both farm cash receipts and total operating expenses are projected to increase by nearly 4%. Interest rates are expected to remain at or near present levels. Land prices in 1984 are expected to remain depressed. Wide regional fluctuations in land prices were recorded in 1983 with land sales continuing low.

Food prices to the consumer could increase by an average of 6-8% next year, according to Agriculture Canada economists.

Gertrude Miller: a friend

Submitted

Gertrude F. Miller was a friend to countless people wherever she lived.

Gertrude was an extremely talented woman. Her crafts were always beautifully executed, and her paintings grace many walls throughout the county. Gertrude's talent for organizing was another attribute and the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded was one of her pet projects; she was a Charter Member. In recent years she had written a book of her adventures as a young nurse at the Red Cross Outpost in Wilberforce.

Gertrude's Christian character held her in good stead throughout her life. She was a member of the South Wilberforce United Church and the U.S.W. Her home was always the setting for the Christmas party.

Gertrude's red Volkswagen was seen all over the county, visiting schools, always with a cheery greeting. She never lost her zest for life.

A memorial service was held in South Wilberforce Church, December 28, 1983. Her request was that instead of flowers, donations be made to the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded, but her final act of an unselfish life was the donation of her body to science.

'Tis education forms the common mind; just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined. Next to freedom and justice is education, without which neither justice nor freedom can be permanently maintained."

Another year has passed with its highlights, happy events as well as some sad and unhappy occurrences taking place. But I am sure that most of us have much to be thankful for and we hope that 1984 brings health and happiness to one and all. All of the excitement and wear and tear of the Christmas and New Years season is over for another year. The beautiful tree and decorations will not be adorning our homes for another year. The children are back in school and everyone can settle down to their more or less prosaic mode of life, coping with the snow, winter weather and following the familiar routine of life, waiting and wishing for spring. On the brighter side, the days are getting longer, there is a lot of sunshine in store for us and winter will be over before you can say "spring".

The foot clinic will be held on January 18.

Irene and Jack Clayton became proud grandparents again on January 2, when their daughter, Barbara Bevilacqua, gave birth to a 9 pound, 14 ounce boy, a brother for Amy and Angela. The baby's name is Carla John and he was born on his uncle John Clayton's birthday. Barb, husband Carla and their three children, reside in North Bay.

I'm curious about something and maybe someone has the answer. Is the shovelling of snow off a roof a professional job? a job for skilled labour such as an electrician or a plumber? or a menial labour job that just requires strength and a bit of common sense, so they don't puncture your roof? I'm curious.

One of the interesting parties over the holiday was at the Anglican Rectory when Ray and Libby Porth entertained with an Open House. The event was well attended and there was an abundance of delicious, tempting refreshments available that must have kept Libby busy for some time. A delightful social time was enjoyed by all.

Congratulations to Joe and Lillian Bigelow who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on January 4. The family gathered together for a supper party to mark the occasion. The couple received a plaque from MPP Frank Miller and a letter of congratulations from MP Stan Darling. We wish them many more years of married life.

We offer birthday congratulations to Hazel Sears who celebrates on the 14th, Joyce McKey on the 15th and to Marg Walkden on the 18th. Happy birthday to each and may they have many more.

A silver anniversary was celebrated by Heather and Roy MacKay on December 27. They were married on that day in 1958. They enjoyed a festive evening with dinner at the Norseman to mark the occasion.

It was an endurance test to shop in Huntsville last week. The sidewalks were covered with several inches of hard packed snow and ice, that was on the main street. The side streets were knee deep with snow. The parking lots were almost hubcap deep with mushy, dirty snow, making it very difficult to park and almost impossible to walk through. After an hour's struggle with it all a person was worn out. I hope they have cleaned up their act by this time.

H.H. To avoid soggy bottom crust when baking pies, sprinkle with two tablespoons of fine bread crumbs, before adding filling. Another fool proof way that works wonderfully, brush crust lightly with egg white and allow to dry ½ hour before filling. No more soggy crust.

Sherborne et al council holds meeting

At a meeting of the Corporation of the Townships of Sherborne, McClintock, Livingstone, Lawrence and Nightingale on November 28, the following matters were considered:

Council approved payment of Road Voucher #10 for the month of October 1983 in the amount of $10,413.31.

Council approved of the hiring of James Crewson and George Lupton as part-time winter employees with the Roads Department under job classification - Class 1 Operators at an hourly rate of $7.11.

Correspondence received from the County of Haliburton was discussed.

The Road Committee of the County of Haliburton agreed to put up pedestrian crossing signs on both ends of the built up area of the County Road No. 8 coming off Highway 35.

The County Roads Department have taken elevations of the ditch in the area of the Ministry of Natural Resources along the County Road No. 39 to decide the best direction for all drainages. It was decided that the County will be lowering the culvert in front of Mr. Ellerington's that crosses County Road 39 and reditching along the roadway. This ditching will be done in the spring of 1984.

Next on the agenda was a general discussion in respect to the Christmas season celebrations. The Reeve suggested that the council members consider approving of a staff party. The Fire Depts. were planning on doing something for the volunteers and a request for monies to offset costs was tabled on behalf of the Fire Depts. In the past monies have been given to the Fire Dept. for such, and after a great deal of deliberation council decided to bring all depts, i.e. council, staff, board members, volunteer firemen together with the planning of one function.

Council directed the Clerk to allocate $800 for expenses towards a Christmas party for Municipal staff, council, Oxtongue Lake Volunteer Fire Dept. and Dorset Fire Department. Any profit derived from this function is to be divided equally between Fire Departments. Carried unanimously.

Deputy Reeve Don Shortreed declared a conflict of interest on the Dunns Road Extension having a pecuniary interest in this matter. Council was in receipt of correspondence from Ministry of Transportation and Communications dated November 17, 1983 dealing with the subject - Dunns Road Extension. MTC stated that the private road recently constructed was inspected and was found to be in accordance with MTC Directive B-18; therefore, it would be in order for the Municipality to assume the road into the system for maintenance purposes.

Council accepted in fee simple those lands and premises located in the following municipality, namely in the Township of Sherborne, in the County of Haliburton and being composed of all that part of Lot 2, Concession XII, in the Township of Sherborne, in the County of Haliburton, designated as Part 7 according to a Plan of Survey deposited in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of Haliburton as Plan 19R-1807. Council directed the Reeve and Clerk to execute the deed of conveyance with their signatures and the Corporate Seal.

Council supported the resolution of the City of Stratford regarding co-operation between the Ministries of Municipal Affairs and Housing and Education to expand teaching of Local Government in school thus creating more awareness of their functions and operation.

Council requested grant monies of $860 from Subsidies Branch, Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing calculated on a per capita basis, and hereby certify that these funds will be spent on purposes in keeping with public celebrations of the Bicentennial.

General Accounts were paid in the amount of $666.14.

Council for the Corporation authorized the payment of $17,658.63 which represents the final instalment of 25% of the County Requisition due on November 30, 1983 and made payable to the County of Haliburton. The total requisition paid for the 1983 year is $70,634.55.

Council directed the Clerk to give a donation of $500 to the Dorset Snowmobile Club for the betterment of snowmobiling and the attraction of tourists to the area.

The clerk informed council that Site specific amendment to by-law #839 on behalf of West Gate Hunt Camp Ltd./Furnandiz is now ready for submission to the Ontario Municipal Board for approval.

Donald Miller's application for shore road allowance closure is now complete and the next step is the execution of deeds from the Corporation to the owners.

Council authorized the Reeve and Clerk to execute deed conveying lands from the Corporation to Audrey Irene Feasby being composed of part of the original road shore allowance along the shore of Kawagama Lake in front of Lot 24, Concession 13, Township of Sherborne, designated as Part 4 on a Plan of Survey deposited in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of the County of Haliburton as Plan 19R-2821. This allowance was closed by By-law #871.

Council authorized the Reeve and Clerk to execute deed conveying lands from the Corporation to Harvey Feasby being composed of part of the original shore road allowance along the shore of Kawagama Lake in front of Lot 24, Concession 13, Township of Sherborne, designated as Parts 2 and 6 on a Plan of Survey deposited in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of the County of Haliburton as Plan 19R-2821. This allowance was closed by By-law #871.

Pensions will increase this year

1984, Old Age Security (OAS) pensions will be indexed at the annual rate of five percent, amounting to $263.78 per month from $260.52.

The Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS) for low-income pensioners is not affected by the "6 and 5" limitation and will continue to be adjusted quarterly in line with increases in the cost of living.

For single pensioners, those payments will increase to $265.60 from $261.55. This will give a person receiving both OAS and the maximum GIS a total of $529.38.

The maximum GIS paid to a married couple, both of whom are pensioners, will be $204.86 each, up from $201.65. This will give each married pensioner receiving both OAS and the maximum GIS a total of $468.64, or $937.28 for the couple.

The Spouse's Allowance will be $468.64, up from $462.17. Persons eligible for this benefit are between 60 and 65 and married to an OAS/GIS pensioner.

Canada Pension Plan recipients are also seeing their benefits increased in the new year. The annual adjustment, which this year is 6.7 percent, is based on the rise in the cost of living over the past year. Individuals receiving these pensions also include pensioners eligible for disability payments, persons receiving surviving spouse's pensions, children receiving monthly benefits as dependents of disability pensioners or as orphans of deceased contributors.

For those who become eligible for benefits in 1984 the maximum monthly retirement pension will be $387.50. The maximum disability pension is $374.50 per month while benefits for disabled contributors will be $83.87 per month per child.

CONGRATULATIONS
To Charlie Smith in his achievement as being top salesperson for the month of December, 1983 for the Haliburton offices of Bowes and Cocks Limited.

Galway/Cavendish minutes

At the December meeting of Galway/Cavendish council the following matters were considered:

Joe Robertson, Ira Robertson and Ernie Lockwood, representing the Green's Lake ratepayers, appeared before council to discuss the proposed installation of a "Texas Cattle Gate" on a section of road that will be assumed by the Municipality from Ministry of Transportation and Communications when Highway 507 is reconstructed. Lockwood stated that the ratepayers of Green's Lake had no objection to the installation of a "Texas Cattle Gate" as proposed by Joe Robertson. After a lengthy discussion where all parties voiced their opinion, a resolution was passed.

Council hereby agreed in principal to the installation of a "Texas Cattle Gate" on the section of road referred to as part lot 17, Concession II, Cavendish, Location #3 on Ministry of Transportation and Communications' survey WP#13-6700, subject to an agreement being established between Mr. & Mrs. Joe Robertson and the Municipality to define construction location, materials to be used, agreement on future maintenance. All costs for the agreement and construction of the "Texas Cattle Gate" are to be at the expense of the applicants, Mr. & Mrs. Joe Robertson.

Wise, effective management key to future of forests

tings. They establish the province's preferences for current and future land use activities. The guidelines represent a landmark in planning, and provide for the multiple use of Ontario's resources -- protecting the interests of all users, from forestry and mining, to hikers and native peoples.

Among other things, the guidelines contain provisions for more than 150 candidate provincial parks. They also establish some completely new land use designations, such as Modified Management Areas -- areas that require special management measures -- with provision for buffers and lake reserves to protect other important resource values in areas where forest harvesting is taking place.

In effect, the guidelines establish the provincial land base required for forestry activities and keep it in harmony with other uses. The documents are a first for Canada and absolutely fundamental to protecting our forestry future.

When you talk about the future of forestry, of course, you have to talk about forest renewal. In Ontario, this renewal takes many forms. For example, some forests can be harvested so that natural regeneration will follow cutting. Frequently, this method requires special efforts to provide suitable conditions for natural seeding.

More intensive methods of regeneration may be required on more productive lands. This may mean careful site preparation, followed by planting or seeding. Ontario spent about $65 million on reforestation work in 1983 -- $14 million on site preparation and $11 million on planting and seeding alone.

As a footnote, it's worthwhile to mention that the Ministry of Natural Resources' overall forest resources budget has tripled during the past five years -- from $43 million in 1977-78, to $122 million in 1982-83. The same period has also witnessed a remarkable increase in tree production, as well as the establishment of 20 private nurseries throughout Northern Ontario to produce millions of tree seedlings.

But the ministry is not just providing for the forest of the future, it is also protecting the one we already have. For example, Ontario leads the world in the use of the most modern methods and equipment available for protecting producing forests against fire and disease.

Forest fire management equipment currently being used includes a computerized lightning detection and mapping system -- for almost-instant fire detection -- and a computer-assisted Decision Support System, as well as a sizeable fleet of helicopters, fire-detection aircraft, and light and heavy water bombers.

The ministry added two Canadair CL-215 amphibious water bombers to its forest fire fighting force in 1983, and entered into an agreement with the federal government to acquire an additional seven CL-215s -- with delivery scheduled to begin in 1985.

As well, a permanent complement of 1,000 professional fire-fighting staff is on duty around the clock at peak periods during the April-October forest fire season to protect our valuable forest stands.

Ontario has also established co-operative programs with the forest industry to train their staffs to help fight forest fires. Over the years, the ministry's fire management professionals have gained international recognition.

To some people, the immediate after effects of logging are not aesthetically pleasing. But professional foresters know that the usual consequence of not harvesting mature timber in the boreal forest is the destruction of the timber by fire and insects. As a result, one of the most important Ontario forest management initiatives is the network of resource access roads.

Some 16,000 kilometres of these roads -- more than our provincial highways system -- have been developed by the ministry and the forest companies of Ontario to provide access to mature and over-mature timber -- trees that would otherwise die from fire, insects or disease. The government's access roads policy provides for full public consultation on the general location of the roads, and the routing is designed to minimize their impact on tourist establishments.

In fact, public involvement in forestry has grown immeasurably over the last few years. The government knows that the use of our forests is important to everyone in Ontario -- important for business and important for enjoyment, recreation and tourism. The ministry therefore provides opportunities for public consultation and involvement in its forest management planning process. Each new Forest Management Agreement, for example, is open for public comment before it is finalized.

Another way to protect our existing forest resources is to reduce the amount of wasted wood. The Ministry of Natural Resources has taken a number of steps to improve the forest industry's wood utilization rate within practical and economic limits.

Primarily, these efforts encourage a more complete and efficient harvesting of the forest, as well as more efficient conversion of logs into saleable products. Also encouraged are the greater use of residues such as sawdust and bark for fuel, and expansion of the province's sawlog industry, through third-party agreements.

Ontario was one of the first provinces to provide incentives -- in co-operation with the federal government -- to the forest industry to modernize and to make mills more efficient and environmentally sound.

Through Forintek -- a non-profit corporation -- the ministry is helping to fund research on a manufacturing process to produce large boards from small strips of wood. Ideally, the research will lead to the development of a continuous high-speed process for producing large, laminated, construction-grade beams. Making better uses of small trees and short logs is just one of the ways in which Ontario's sawmill operations can become more competitive.

There is, of course, a good deal more research currently being done. The ministry's main research efforts emphasize tree improvement -- through selecting superior trees and using vegetative cuttings for genetic improvements. A good example is the development of the fast-growing hybrid poplar -- a tree species that exhibits phenomenally rapid growth, and that can be bred for desirable characteristics such as resistance to disease, correct shape and thickness. The ministry is now researching methods to improve the growth of other species -- notably spruce and jack pine.

The ministry is also involved in a number of federal-provincial co-operative programs. For example, under a five-year Forest Management Subsisiary Agreement signed in 1978, the Ontario and federal governments have equally funded a total of $71.5 million for forest access, silviculture, seedling production and forest land surveys and assessment. And negotiations leading to a new, five-year forestry agreement are currently underway.

In addition to the ministry's own nurseries, which produce some 82 million containerized and bare root seedlings yearly, the ministry has signed 20 contracts with private nurseries to help supply the big demand for tree seedlings -- a demand which exists because of the regeneration efforts being made under Forest Management Agreements.

Currently these private growers are producing millions of seedlings for planting. The Ontario Cabinet's Board of Industrial Leadership and Development (BILD) has provided some of the necessary capital assistance to establish adequate facilities, and the resulting boom in seedling production is helping the ministry to meet its forest re-generation targets.

But these forest management programs alone cannot ensure a guaranteed, healthy future for our forests. W.T. Foster, Deputy Minister of Natural Resources -- and a professional forester for more than 30 years -- told the Canadian Institute of Forestry in Sault Ste. Marie in October, 1983: "There is a serious gap in forestry in Ontario." This gap concerns the important linkage between the "old forest" and the "new forest".

Much of Ontario's existing forest is old. It has been growing here for hundreds and thousands of years -- managed only by nature: natural seeding, natural death, fires and decay.

That natural process was interrupted when Ontario began to be settled, more than 200 years ago. Forestry was an important part of Ontario from the beginning, and it is easy to understand how it seemed to the early settlers that the forests were limitless.

Our early foresters felt that natural regeneration alone would restore the forests quickly enough. And it still seemed that way to Ontario's lumber and pulp and paper companies early in this century. Reforestation -- if it was considered at all -- was seen as unnecessary, as expensive and largely irrelevant.

Today, however, reforestation is an important and vital part of all good forest management. The new forest will be the result of those efforts -- the new forest that is being planted in Ontario today, and that has been planted over the last couple of decades.

But the new forest will not produce a stick of timber until well into the next century, since it takes between 40 and 80 years for a forest to mature. If there is a problem in the Ontario forest industry, it is how to bridge the generation gap that exists between the old and the new forests.

For example, it is currently quite common to truck wood more than 300 kilometres to the mill: this is necessary in order to utilize the old forest and thereby maintain the industry until the new forest is ready. It is the old forest that must be utilized effectively by the industry if the gap between old and new is to be bridged.

Ontario's ability to bridge the forest gap depends upon continued wise and effective management, upon improving our wood utilization rate, upon building more access roads to our overmature forests, upon protecting our forests from fire and insects and upon our willingness to work together to transcend the gap -- and these are the forest management objectives of the Ministry of Natural Resources.
